

STORY FOUR

GONE FISHING

With those in your family, here are five ideas to engage with the story:

1. Peter had let Jesus down by saying that he didn't know him three times, but in this story he is re-instated as part of Jesus' new community. You can read what happens next to Peter in Acts Chapter 2. Why do you think this beach BBQ was so important for Peter?

2. The disciples found it hard to recognise Jesus at first. But John recognises him when they catch all the fish.

Read Luke 5:1-11 as a family. What might have given John a clue that it was Jesus on the shore?

3. Jesus did lots around meals. This time it was breakfast.

As a family, can you plan a special meal for the week ahead. What might you do to make God a central part of it? It might be saying grace, reading a Bible story or reflecting on where God has been at work in your day?

4. Draw some fish and then cut them out. Write or draw something you are thankful for and stick them on your wardrobe so that everyday you can say thanks to God for the good things he gives to us.

Big challenge: can you think of 153 things?

5. Peter had previously let Jesus down. As a family, how do you let each other down sometimes?

Maybe you can choose to forgive each other as you think about this story?
