Changing Seasons

It's winter in Nairobi! Coughs and flu symptoms are common, while the wearing of masks is recommended in public places once more – due to a rise in the rate of Covid infections. The favourite hot drink of the day is called dawa – which is the Swahili word for medicine. It's made by boiling water with fresh ginger, then adding lemon and honey.

Endings and Beginnings

On the plus side, the cooler weather here should help in preparing us for what lies ahead – the summer holidays in Ireland! The school year closes in July and among the final activities are transition talks for parents and children moving up into a new section. Silas (11) leaves primary to start year 7 in middle school, while Aaron (14) enters the senior end to focus on specific subjects for IGCSE.

Meanwhile the election results will determine which direction Thomas' work will take. Pray earnestly for a peaceful handing over to those newly elected in key leadership roles, especially that of the presidency.

Changes are happening in the Theological Education by Extension (TEE) editorial team too, as Joyce is transitioning from her role in Children's Ministry to become a PCEA reverend in charge of a parish. Her first posting is a two-hour drive north of Nairobi. It's uncertain how often Joyce will be able to attend TEE meetings, or if she'll have the space needed to work on the assignments. We are hoping that Gladwell, who writes Vacation Bible School (VBS) materials with us, can join the TEE team as she will be a great asset to us there.

A time for every purpose under heaven." Ecclesiastes 3:1*

Whichever season of life you are in, we trust that you will know God's presence as your anchor. Thank you for continuing to read the bulletins and faithfully praying for us as a family, we appreciate it so much.

Prayer points

- Praise God for the summer break, giving us the chance to travel back to Ireland and spend time with family and friends. Pray for the boys as they start a new academic school year at the end of August.
- Continue holding Thomas in your prayers as elections take place on 9 August. Pray that Kenya will experience a peaceful transition with the change of leadership that lies ahead.
- Ask for God's blessings on Joyce as she starts her parish ministry in July – that God will be with her in this new venture.
- Remember the TEE editorial team and thank God for the timely recruitment of Gladwell to it.
