

Another look at myself?

What am I beginning to see differently:

- about things that had become too important to me?
- about things that I didn't previously value enough?

*What good is it for someone to gain the whole world, yet
forfeit their soul?*

Mark 8:36

God help me to better see and appreciate what really matters
in life and what I tend to make
of too great importance.
